

Researcher/Senior Researcher

National Seniors Australia (NSA) is the largest not-for-profit organisation representing Australians aged 50 and over with members and offices in all states.

The National Seniors Productive Ageing Centre (NSPAC) was established by NSA to advance knowledge and understanding into all aspects of productive ageing to improve the quality of life of people aged 50 and over. NSPAC is seeking dynamic Researchers/Senior Researchers to join our Canberra team.

Reporting to the General Manager Policy and Research, your full-time role will include a diverse range of quality consumer oriented research activities. Your role will also involve informing government, business and the community on all aspects of productive ageing. A further objective is to raise awareness of research outcomes.

To be successful you will need to demonstrate research capacity and experience; and the ability to manage projects. It also requires well-developed inter-personal skills and the ability to prepare reports, articles and research papers. Applicants should possess an appropriate tertiary qualification and significant research experience.

A copy of the position description can be obtained from www.productiveageing.com.au. Applicants must be approved to live and work in Australia, and may contact Peter Matwijiw (General Manager Policy and Research) on (02) 6230 4588 for further information.

Applications addressing the selection criteria and providing details of 3 referees should be directed to p.matwijiw@nationalseniors.com.au
